

Your guide to the international terminal at Atlanta airport (ATL)

1

US citizens / ESTAs holders on second (or successive) visit to the US

Proceed to the immigration hall and use one of the automated passport control kiosks.

Staying in Atlanta?

Collect your bags and turn right through the glass double doors into the arrivals lobby.

2

All other nationalities/ ESTA holders visiting the US for the first time

Proceed through Immigration and Customs via the ESTAs or regular immigration booths.

3

Taking a connecting flight

After leaving the aircraft, take the escalator downstairs. You must collect your baggage before customs, even if it's tagged to your final destination.

You're only required to see the transfer desk if you have not checked in for your connecting flight or you've missed your connection.

– Domestic connections

If you are checked through to your final destination, simply collect your baggage and pass through customs, turn left through the glass double doors and drop your bags off at the baggage belt to your left. Proceed to the departure gate.

– International connections

If you are checked through to your final destination, simply collect your baggage and pass through customs, turn left through the glass double doors and drop your bags off at the baggage belt to your left. Proceed through TSA security to your connecting flight.

Please see overleaf for your handy map.

Remember, you must pass through Customs and Immigration even if your bags have been tagged to your final destination.
