Product Information for Personal Checking Accounts

Chase First CheckingSM

For parents/guardians interested in teaching their child how to manage money using a debit card with the child's name on it. The parent/guardian is the owner of this account and must have an online profile and one of these other checking accounts at account opening: a Chase Secure Checking, Chase Total Checking, Chase Premier Plus Checking, Chase Sapphire Checking or a Chase Private Client Checking account. Benefits offered to these checking accounts do not apply to Chase First Checking accounts.

To promote parental controls and guardrails, only the parent/guardian who opened the account can fund or manage it.

Monthly Service Fee	$0
Age Requirements	You can open an account for your child who is 6–17 years old. Once your child turns 18, we recommend they open their own account. If they do not select another account by the time they turn 25, we will close the Chase First Checking account
Maximum Number of Accounts Allowed	Up to five Chase First Checking accounts per parent/guardian
Only Way to Deposit Funds	Deposit funds through a transfer from any of your checking accounts to this account using chase.com or Chase Mobile®
Only Ways to Withdraw Funds	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - At an ATM - At merchants for purchases with a debit card (no cash back with PIN transactions), including online purchases - OR, the parent/guardian can transfer funds back to any of their checking accounts using chase.com or Chase Mobile
Features/Online Categories	These features are available on chase.com or Chase Mobile <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Spend is a tool where you can set rules to manage where and how much your child can spend at specific places or categories of places (retail stores, restaurants, etc.) using Chase Mobile <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We will follow the spending rules but there may be times when the technology allows your child to exceed the amount in that category (for example, a system outage) - Save is a tool where your child can start learning about saving by setting savings goals - Earn is a tool that you can use to add money into the account based on rules that you set. For example, setting allowance and chores
Additional Information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - You give consent for your child to see any information regarding this account - Since you own the account, you are the only one who may contact the bank about changes, questions or claims on the account

Overdraft Fees	Overdraft: Chase pays a transaction during our nightly processing on a business day when your account balance is overdrawn	$34 Overdraft Fee per transaction during our nightly processing beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account balance by more than $50. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Maximum of 3 fees per business day (up to $102) We won't charge an Overdraft Fee: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • With Chase Overdraft AssistSM, if you're overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day OR if you're overdrawn by more than $50 and you bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the next business day. See Chase Overdraft Services for additional details • If your transaction is $5 or less • If your debit card transaction was authorized when there was a sufficient available balance in your account • If your check or ACH is returned unpaid. However, we may charge an Overdraft Fee if a previously returned check or ACH is presented again and paid • If your debit card transaction or ATM cash withdrawal request is declined

You can avoid overdrawing your account by making a deposit or transferring funds to cover the overdraft before the business day ends and we start our nightly processing. Here are the cutoff times for some ways of making a deposit or transferring funds from another Chase account:

- At a branch before it closes
- At an ATM before 11 p.m. Eastern Time (8 p.m. Pacific Time)
- When transferring money on chase.com or Chase Mobile or using Zelle before 11 p.m. Eastern Time (8 p.m. Pacific Time)

If you deposit a check, this assumes we do not place a hold and the check is not returned. Additional cutoff times apply to other transfers, including transfers from non-Chase accounts. Please visit chase.com or Chase Mobile for more information and service agreements.

NOTE: These fees may be waived with certain personal checking and savings account types. See Product Information for details.

Card Purchase and Withdrawal Limits

Daily Limits are based on the Card Type you use and which type of ATM you use, not the account you have. These are the limits that come with your card, but you can contact us to request a different ATM or Purchase Limit (subject to approval).

DAILY LIMITS
Card Type	Purchase Limit	Chase In-Branch ATM Limit	Other Chase ATM Limit	Non-Chase ATM Limit
Chase Debit Card Chase Disney Debit Card Chase Star Wars Debit Card Chicago Skyline Debit Card (IL only)	$5,000	$3,000	$1,000	$500 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)
Chase Sapphire Banking Debit Card	$7,500	$3,000	$3,000	$1,000 ($2,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)
Chase Private Client Debit Card	$7,500	$3,000	$3,000	$2,000
Chase First Banking Debit Card	$400	$100	$100	$100
Chase ATM Card	N/A	$3,000	$1,000	$300 ($1,000 for accounts opened in CT, NJ, NY)

When you use a Chase ATM it is either considered an In-Branch ATM or Other Chase ATM.

- Chase In-Branch ATMs are ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use during the branch's posted business hours.
- Other Chase ATMs include ATMs located inside the main area of a Chase branch that you use outside of the branch's posted business hours, ATMs that are separated from the main area of a branch by another set of doors, drive-up ATMs and other Chase ATMs not located in or near a branch.

The Chase In-Branch ATM Limit is separate from all other limits, which means that withdrawals at a Chase In-Branch ATM do not count toward your Other Chase ATM or Non-Chase ATM Limits. When you use a Chase In-Branch ATM, all withdrawals made with any of your ATM or debit cards count toward every card's Chase In-Branch ATM Limit. Chase ATMs have daily funds transfer limits for your security.

When you use an Other Chase ATM or a Non-Chase ATM, all withdrawals count toward the Other Chase ATM Limits for all of your ATM or debit cards, and count toward only that card's Non-Chase ATM Limit.

Non-ATM cash transactions are considered as everyday debit card transactions and count toward your purchase limit.

Special rules for Privileges Cards (for Chase Private Client only):

The Privileges Card has monthly limits for ATM withdrawals and purchases, which are set by the account owner (not to exceed $10,000 for ATM withdrawals and $50,000 for purchases). Withdrawals at any ATM count toward the monthly limit, and Privileges Card withdrawals do not count toward the account owner's limit on other cards. The limits are reset on the first day of the month.

Footnotes

- * New and converted accounts will not be charged a Monthly Service Fee for at least the first two statement periods. After that the Monthly Service Fee will apply unless you meet one of the ways to avoid the Monthly Service Fee each statement period (if applicable).
- 1 Financial institutions may deduct processing fees and/or charges from the amount of the incoming or outgoing wire transfers, including on returned wire transfers. Any deductions taken by us, and our affiliates, may include processing fees charged by Chase.
- 2 J.P. Morgan Wealth Management is a business of JPMorgan Chase & Co., which offers investment products and services through J.P. Morgan Securities LLC (JPMS), a registered broker-dealer and investment adviser, member FINRA and SIPC. Insurance products are made available through Chase Insurance Agency, Inc. (CIA), a licensed insurance agency, doing business as Chase Insurance Agency Services, Inc. in Florida. Certain custody and other services are provided by JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (JPMCB). JPMS, CIA and JPMCB are affiliated companies under the common control of JPMorgan Chase & Co. Products not available in all states.
- 3 Your qualifying mortgage must be linked and enrolled in automatic payments on the business day before the end of your statement period. Automatic payments are when you authorize Chase to automatically deduct payment each month from your Chase account. Payments you set up through Online Bill Pay will not be included. Qualifying mortgage accounts include Chase first mortgage accounts (with servicing retained by Chase) that are in good standing.
- 4 This benefit applies based on your account having this benefit when the debit card or ATM transaction is posted on the account.
- 5 For wire transfers, the “No Chase Fee” benefit applies to the Wire Transfer Fees section listed on the Fee Schedule included in this document and does not apply to the spread we include in the foreign currency exchange rate. Financial institutions may deduct processing fees and/or charges from the amount of the incoming or outgoing wire transfers, including on returned wire transfers. Any deductions taken by us, and our affiliates, may include processing fees charged by Chase.
- 6 “Sapphire Banking” is the brand name for a banking and investment offering, requiring a Chase Sapphire Checking account.
- 7 This benefit will begin the next business day after opening the account. Some ATM owners/networks do not identify these Surcharge Fees in the information they send to us and, as a result, we may not automatically refund the fee. If for any reason the refund is not processed, please contact us. If you choose to convert an international transaction to U.S. dollars at either an ATM or on a purchase, foreign currency commissions and fees included in the exchange rate charged by third parties are excluded from Chase Surcharge Fee reimbursements.
- 8 This benefit will begin the next business day after opening the account. The “No Chase Fee” benefit applies based on your account having this benefit when the debit card or ATM transaction is posted on the account.
- 9 This benefit will begin the next business day after opening the account.
- 10 “Chase Private Client” is the brand name for a banking and investment offering, requiring a Chase Private Client Checking account.
- 11 We may use any funds transfer system we believe reasonable to complete your request, regardless of any instructions you might give us. If we also are the recipient’s bank, we may complete your request using an internal transfer, and assess a wire transfer fee.

Chase Overdraft Services

An overdraft occurs when you don't have enough money available in your checking account to cover a transaction. Whether your account has enough money to cover a transaction is determined during our nightly processing. During our nightly processing, we take your previous end of day's balance and post credits. If there are any deposits not yet available for use or holds (such as a garnishment), these will reduce the account balance used to pay your transactions. Then we subtract any debit transactions presented during our nightly processing. The available balance shown to you during the day may not be the same amount used to pay your transactions as some transactions may not be displayed to you before nightly processing.

We have a Standard Overdraft Practice that comes with Chase checking accounts. Our Standard Overdraft Practice comes with Chase Overdraft Assist, which does not require enrollment. We also offer Overdraft Protection and Chase Debit Card Coverage, which are optional services that can help pay overdrafts when they occur. Our overdraft services are not available for Chase Secure Checking or Chase First Checking. You must immediately pay the amount of any overdraft along with any fees that apply.

STANDARD OVERDRAFT PRACTICE:

What it is:

Our Standard Overdraft Practice may pay, for a fee, overdraft transactions at our discretion based on your account history, the deposits you make and the transaction amount. We do NOT GUARANTEE we will always pay your overdraft transaction, and if we do not pay your transaction, the transaction will be declined or returned unpaid. Standard Overdraft Practice is not available for Chase High School Checking.

What it pays:

- Checks, Automatic Payments (e.g. recurring phone bill, mortgage or utility bill), recurring debit card purchases (e.g. movie subscriptions or gym memberships)
- NOT covered: Everyday debit card transactions (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out)

What it costs:

- We charge a $34 Overdraft Fee per transaction during our nightly processing beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account balance by more than $50 (maximum of 3 fees per business day, up to $102)

When a fee won't be charged:

With Chase Overdraft AssistSM, you can avoid Overdraft Fees when your account balance is overdrawn.

Each business day, we complete our nightly processing of the transactions for that business day. After we complete our nightly processing, if your account balance at the end of the business day is overdrawn by more than $50, then you need to make a deposit or transfer to avoid Overdraft Fees on the transactions that overdraw your account. You will then have until 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on the next business day to make a deposit or transfer that brings your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of that business day. To calculate your account balance at the end of the business day, we take your previous end of day's balance and post credits. If there are any deposits not yet available for use or holds (such as a garnishment), these will reduce the account balance used to pay your transactions. Then we subtract any debit transactions presented during our nightly processing. See the Posting Order and Processing section here and in the Deposit Account Agreement for detailed information about posted and pending transactions.

If after we complete our nightly processing your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the current business day, then no Overdraft Fees will be charged on the previous and current business day's transactions.

If your account balance remains overdrawn by more than $50 at the end of the current business day, you may be charged Overdraft Fees on the previous business day's transactions. You will have an additional business day to deposit or transfer funds to avoid Overdraft Fees on the current business day's transactions.

Chase Overdraft Assist does not require enrollment and comes with eligible Chase checking accounts.

To help illustrate how Chase Overdraft Assist works, here are some examples:

In these examples, all days are business days and we assume there are no additional transactions other than the ones described. As a reminder, we pay overdraft transactions at our discretion.

Example 1: No $34 Overdraft Fees – Overdrawn by $50 or less: On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your account. Throughout the day, we receive three $15 checks drawn on your account. During our nightly processing for Monday, we pay these transactions, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $40.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee was not charged because your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day.

Example 2: No $34 Overdraft Fees – Overdrawn by more than $50 and you make a deposit to bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the next business day: On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your account. Throughout the day, we receive three $25 checks drawn on your account. During our nightly processing for Monday, we pay these transactions, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $70. To avoid the $34 Overdraft Fee, you make a cash deposit of $30 by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Tuesday, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $40.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee was not charged because your account balance is overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day. If you had not made that cash deposit, then your account balance would have remained overdrawn by more than $50 on Tuesday and you would have been charged a $34 Overdraft Fee on the check.

Example 3: $34 Overdraft Fees are charged on a debit card transaction:

In this example, you have enrolled in Chase Debit Card Coverage.

On Monday, you start the day with $5 in your account. Later that day you make a $100 debit card transaction on groceries. During our nightly processing for Monday, this transaction posts and we pay it, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $95.

On Tuesday, you make a $60 debit card transaction for gasoline. During our nightly processing for Tuesday, this transaction posts and we pay it, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $155 ($100 groceries transaction + $60 gasoline transaction). To avoid the $34 Overdraft Fee on the $60 gasoline transaction from Tuesday, you make a cash deposit of $149 by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Wednesday, leaving your end of day account balance overdrawn by $40.

Result: A $34 Overdraft Fee is charged on the $100 groceries that overdraw your account by more than $50 on Monday. This fee is charged because you didn't make a deposit or transfer by 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) on Tuesday to bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day.

On Wednesday your account is overdrawn by $189 ($100 groceries transaction + $60 gasoline transaction + $34 Overdraft Fee). However, because you made a $149 cash deposit on Wednesday leaving your account balance overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day, a $34 Overdraft Fee was not charged.

There are other ways to avoid Overdraft Fees:

- If your transaction is $5 or less
- If your debit card transaction was authorized when there was a sufficient available balance in your account
- If your check or ACH is returned unpaid. However, we may charge an Overdraft Fee if a previously returned check or ACH is presented again and paid
- If your debit card transaction or ATM cash withdrawal request is declined
- For Chase Sapphire Checking and Chase Private Client Checking accounts, there are no Overdraft Fees when item(s) are presented against an account with insufficient funds on the first four business days during the current and prior 12 statement periods. On a business day when we returned item(s), this counts toward the four business days when an Overdraft Fee will not be charged.

Knowing your balance may help you avoid fees

"Pending" transactions

Throughout the day we post debits and credits to your account that may appear as "pending" when we become aware of the transaction. The following are the most common types of debit transactions that may appear as "pending" and reduce your available balance by the amount of the transaction:

- ATM and Chase Banker Withdrawals, Transfers and Payments
- Automatic Payments
- Chase.com or Chase Mobile Online Transactions
- Checks Drawn on Your Account
- Debit Card Transactions
- Wire Transfers

ATM and Chase Banker Withdrawals, Transfers and Payments: For payments or cash withdrawals, we will apply the transactions and update your available balance as soon as the transaction is complete.

Automatic Payments (ACH transactions): We will generally apply debit transactions against your available balance as pending at the start of the business day of the effective date of the payment. If you initiate ACH debit transactions on the same day as the effective date, we will apply them in the order we receive them.

Chase.com or Chase Mobile Online Transactions: For any payment or transfer, once you approve the transaction, we'll apply it to your account. For recurring or future dated payments, it is applied on the effective "send on" date.

Checks Drawn on Your Account: When cashed or deposited at a Chase ATM, branch, or online, the check will be pending on your account at the time it was cashed or deposited. Checks that are deposited at other banks will show as pending throughout the day as the other banks submit the item to us for payment. If the amount of the check identified in the notice exceeds your balance at the time we receive the notice, we may notify the other bank of that fact.

Debit Card Transactions: For more information on debit card transactions refer to the section Important Information and Agreements About Your Card.

Wire Transfers: Once we've begun processing the wire transfer and completed all of our internal reviews, we will apply the transaction to your account and update your available balance on the transfer's effective date.

While we make every effort to place transactions in a pending status on your account during the day, transactions may be unable to be displayed as pending before they are posted to your account. How these transactions are posted when they are completed and no longer display as pending is based on the posting order. Fees are applied against the account based on how transactions are posted. For details, refer to the section Posting Order.

Posting Order

Posting order is the order in which we apply deposits and withdrawals to your account. We provide you with visibility into how transactions are posted and in what order to help you better manage your account.

When we transition from one business day to the next business day we post transactions to and from your account during our nightly processing. The order in which we generally post transactions during nightly processing for each business day is:

- First, we make any previous day adjustments, and add deposits to your account.
- Second, we subtract transactions in chronological order by using the date and time of when the transaction was authorized or shown as pending. This includes ATM and Chase banker withdrawals, transfers and payments; automatic payments; chase.com or Chase Mobile online transactions; checks drawn on your account; debit card transactions; wire transfers; and real time payments. If multiple transactions have the same date and time, then they are posted in high to low dollar order.
 - There are some instances where we do not have the time of the transaction therefore we post at the end of the day the transaction occurred:
 - We are unable to show the transaction as pending; or
 - We don't receive an authorization request from the merchant but the transaction is presented for payment.
- Third, there are some transactions that we cannot process automatically or until we've completed posting of your chronological transactions. This includes Overdraft Protection transfers or transfers to maintain target balances in other accounts. We subtract these remaining transactions in high to low dollar order.
- Finally, fees are assessed last.

If you review your account during the day, you will see that we show some transactions as "pending." For details, refer to the section "Pending transactions." These transactions impact your available balance, but have not yet posted to your account and do not guarantee that we will pay these transactions to your account if you have a negative balance at that time. We may still return a transaction unpaid if your balance has insufficient funds during that business day's nightly processing, even if it had been displayed as a "pending" transaction on a positive balance during the day. If a transaction that you made or authorized does not display as "pending," you are still responsible for it and it may still be posted against your account during nightly processing.

OVERDRAFT PROTECTION:

What it is:

Allows you to link a Chase savings account as an Overdraft Protection backup account to your checking account to help pay any overdraft transactions that may occur. If your checking account does not have enough money, we will use the available funds from your backup account to authorize or pay transactions. The exact amount needed to cover the transaction will be transferred if enough funds are available.

What it pays:

- All transactions, including everyday debit card transactions (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out)

What it costs:

- There is not a fee for an Overdraft Protection transfer. Refer to the page How your transactions will work for Overdraft Fees that may apply if there is NOT enough money available in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account

Establishing or Canceling Overdraft Protection: Any owner of both a qualifying checking account and the backup account may enroll in Overdraft Protection without the consent of other owners and both accounts must share at least one owner to maintain Overdraft Protection. Any owner of the checking account or the backup account may cancel Overdraft Protection (by terminating the service or closing the account) without the consent of other owners. A backup account can provide Overdraft Protection for more than one checking account, but a checking account can have only one backup account. A personal checking account may be linked to a Chase personal savings account; and a business checking account may be linked to a Chase business savings account or a business line of credit in good standing. We may cancel your Overdraft Protection service at any time. Your request to add or cancel Overdraft Protection will become effective within a reasonable time after approval.

Transfers: We will make one Overdraft Protection transfer per business day that will appear on your statement for both accounts. If you have enough available funds in your backup account, we will automatically transfer enough to bring your checking account balance to zero. If you do not have enough available funds in your backup account to bring your checking account balance to zero, but you have enough available funds to pay one or more transactions and/or your previous day's negative balance, we will transfer that amount. If the amount transferred does not bring your checking account balance to zero, your checking account will become overdrawn and you may be charged Overdraft Fees. If we authorize your transaction, we will leave the funds in your backup account until we pay the transaction, which may take several days. However, if you use those funds before the transaction is paid there will not be available funds to transfer and your checking account may become overdrawn and charged an Overdraft Fee. The available balance for a savings account is determined at the time that we authorize a transaction or at the end of business day processing. The available balance for a business line of credit is determined at the end of the previous business day processing. We are not required to notify you if funds from the backup account cannot be transferred for Overdraft Protection (for example if the account is dormant, purged, restricted or not in good standing). Refer to the section Restricting Your Account; Blocking or Delaying Transactions in the Deposit Account Agreement for additional information.

CHASE DEBIT CARD COVERAGE:

What it is:

Allows you to choose how we treat your EVERYDAY DEBIT CARD transactions. If you don't have Overdraft Protection, or you don't have enough funds in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account, and:

- You select YES, we may authorize overdrafts at our discretion and you understand you will be charged an Overdraft Fee per transaction if Chase pays your overdraft
- You select NO, the transaction will be declined and you will NOT be charged a fee

Chase Debit Card Coverage is not available for Chase High School Checking.

Regardless of your Debit Card Coverage decision, if you are enrolled in Overdraft Protection and you have enough money in your linked Overdraft Protection backup account, we will use the available funds from your backup account to authorize or pay transactions.

What it pays:

- Everyday debit card transactions ONLY (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out)

What it costs:

- We charge a $34 Overdraft Fee per transaction during our nightly processing beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account balance by more than $50 (maximum of 3 fees per business day, up to $102)

When a fee won't be charged:

- With Chase Overdraft Assist, if you're overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day OR if you're overdrawn by more than $50 and you bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the next business day
- If your transaction is $5 or less
- If your debit card transaction was authorized when there was a sufficient available balance in your account
- If your debit card transaction is declined
- For Chase Sapphire Checking and Chase Private Client Checking accounts, there are no Overdraft Fees when item(s) are presented against an account with insufficient funds on the first four business days during the current and prior 12 statement periods. On a business day when we returned item(s), this counts toward the four business days when an Overdraft Fee will not be charged

You can avoid overdrawing your account by making a deposit or transferring funds to cover the overdraft before the business day ends and we start our nightly processing. Here are the cutoff times for some ways of making a deposit or transferring funds from another Chase account:

- At a branch before it closes
- At an ATM before 11 p.m. Eastern Time (8 p.m. Pacific Time)
- When transferring money on chase.com or Chase Mobile or using Zelle before 11 p.m. Eastern Time (8 p.m. Pacific Time)

If you deposit a check, this assumes we do not place a hold and the check is not returned. Additional cutoff times apply to other transfers, including transfers from non-Chase accounts. Please visit chase.com or Chase Mobile for more information and service agreements.

Disclosures for New Account Inquiries

The information is a part of our Deposit Account Agreement. However, these disclosures are not our complete deposit contract. If you open an account, or upon request, we will provide our Deposit Account Agreement, which contains the complete deposit contract.

Interest on Checking and Savings Accounts: When you open a checking or savings account that pays interest, we will provide you a rate sheet stating the current interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield for your account. The rate sheet is considered a part of this agreement.

Your account has a variable interest rate. That means we may change the interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield as often as we choose, without limits and without notice. Interest begins to accrue on the business day we receive credit for your deposit. For cash, wire transfers and electronic direct deposits, interest begins to accrue on the business day of your deposit.

We use the daily balance method for calculating interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in your account each day, which may be based on your present balance or collected balance as explained in the product information for your account. The collected balance is the balance of all deposits in your account on which we have received credit for the deposited funds (determined by the availability schedule of our Federal Reserve Bank for checks and similar items). We reserve the right not to pay interest on any deposited item that is returned to us unpaid.

Interest is credited and compounded monthly. However, Retirement Money Market accounts with interest distributions will not compound, and interest will be credited on the distribution date. Unless otherwise stated in your product disclosure, interest is computed on a 365-day basis. We pay interest only in whole cents. Therefore, at the end of each interest payment period (usually monthly), any fractional amount of interest less than half of one cent will be rounded down and any fractional amount of interest equal to half of one cent or more will be rounded up to the next whole cent.

Savings Account Withdrawals: In this agreement, a savings account means an account, including a money market account (and excluding NOW accounts), for which we reserve the right to require seven days' prior written notice to withdrawal. See the section Our right to require advance notice of withdrawals. During any monthly statement period, you may make transfers and withdrawals, regardless of the number of transfers and withdrawals or the way in which transfers and withdrawals are made.

CDs: A certificate of deposit, or CD, is a deposit account with us for a specified period of time. This disclosure covers both retirement and non-retirement CD products. By opening your CD, you agree to keep the amount deposited (principal) on deposit. If you make a check deposit to your CD at account opening or during the renewal period and the check is returned to us unpaid, we will subtract the amount of the returned check from your CD balance. If a balance remains in the CD, it will stay open with the reduced balance. If there is a zero balance after we subtract the returned check, we will close the CD. If there is a negative balance in your CD after we subtract the returned check, you must immediately pay the amount of the overdraft. Here are a few things you should know about CDs:

- Term: The term is the number of days, months or years you agree to leave your money in the account.
- Maturity date and grace period: The maturity date is the last day of your CD's term. The grace period is the 10 days after the maturity date for CDs with a term of 14 days or longer. On the maturity date or during the grace period you can change the term of your CD, make additional deposits (for non-retirement CDs only), or withdraw your CD principal without paying an early withdrawal penalty.
- CD ladders: A CD ladder is a group of four CDs opened at the same time for the same amount but with different terms. When each CD matures, its term will change to the longest term of the original group. For example, in a 12-month ladder, we will open four CDs with original terms of 3, 6, 9 and 12 months. When each CD matures, its new term will be 12 months. The result will be four 12-month CDs with a CD maturing every three months.
- Automatically renewable CD: An automatically renewable CD will renew on the maturity date for the same term unless 1) you have a different renewal term as part of a CD ladder; 2) you change or close the account or 3) we notify you otherwise. Once your CD renews, any reference to the maturity date means the last day of the new term. For the renewal term, your CD will earn interest for the term and amount at the CD standard rate unless you qualify for the CD relationship rate. If your CD is closed during the grace period, it will not earn interest on or after the maturity date.
- Single maturity CD: A single maturity CD will not automatically renew on the maturity date and won't earn interest on or after that date.
- Interest: We use the daily balance method to calculate interest on your CD. This method applies a periodic rate each day to your balance. Interest begins to accrue on the business day of your deposit. Interest for CDs is calculated on a 365-day basis, although some business CDs may calculate interest on a 360-day basis. The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) disclosed on your deposit receipt or on the maturity notice assumes interest will remain on deposit until maturity. On maturities of more than one year, interest will be paid at least annually. You may withdraw any paid or credited interest without penalty during your CD's term or at maturity. On the maturity date, interest will become principal of the renewed CD. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Disclosures for New Account Inquiries

- Early withdrawal penalties: There is a penalty for withdrawing principal prior to the maturity date.

Refer to the CD section in the Product Information.

Waiving early withdrawal penalties for Personal CDs:

We will waive early withdrawal penalties under the circumstances described below, unless these withdrawals occur less than seven days after the account was opened or a previous withdrawal was made.

For non-retirement CDs:

- Death of a CD owner or a grantor of a revocable family/living trust;
- Disability of a CD owner;
- A court's determination that a CD owner is incompetent; and
- Re-titling of a CD to transfer ownership of funds into a living trust without moving funds from the bank and where no change in term or rate occurs.

Overdraft and Overdraft Fee Information for Your Chase Checking Account

What You Need to Know About Overdrafts and Overdraft Fees

An overdraft occurs when you do not have enough money in your account to cover a transaction, but we pay it anyway. Whether your account has enough money to cover a transaction is determined during our nightly processing. During our nightly processing, we take your previous end of day's balance and post credits. If there are any deposits not yet available for use or holds (such as a garnishment), these will reduce the account balance used to pay your transactions. Then we subtract any debit transactions presented during our nightly processing. The available balance shown to you during the day may not be the same amount used to pay your transactions as some transactions may not be displayed to you before nightly processing.

We pay overdrafts at our discretion, which means we do not guarantee that we will always authorize or pay any transactions presented for payment. If we do not authorize an overdraft, your transaction will be declined. If we do not pay an overdraft, your transaction will be returned. Additional information about overdrafts and your account features can be found in the Deposit Account Agreement.

We can cover your overdrafts in three different ways:

1. We have a Standard Overdraft Practice that comes with your account.
2. We offer Overdraft Protection through a link to a Chase savings account, which may be less expensive than our Standard Overdraft Practice. You can contact us to learn more.
3. We also offer Chase Debit Card CoverageSM, which allows you to choose how we treat your everyday debit card transactions (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out), in addition to our Standard Overdraft Practice.

This notice explains our Standard Overdraft Practice and Chase Debit Card Coverage.

- What is the Standard Overdraft Practice that comes with my account?

We do authorize and pay overdrafts for the following types of transactions:

- Checks and other transactions made using your checking account number
- Recurring debit card transactions (e.g. movie subscriptions or gym memberships)

- What is Chase Debit Card Coverage?

If you enroll in Chase Debit Card Coverage we may authorize and pay overdrafts for everyday debit card transactions (e.g. groceries, gasoline or dining out) in addition to our Standard Overdraft Practice.

- What fees will I be charged if Chase pays my overdraft?

If we authorize and pay an overdraft, we'll charge you a $34 Overdraft Fee per transaction during our nightly processing beginning with the first transaction that overdraws your account balance by more than $50 (maximum of 3 fees per business day, up to $102).

We won't charge you an Overdraft Fee in the following circumstances:

- With Chase Overdraft AssistSM, we won't charge an Overdraft Fee if you're overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the business day OR if you're overdrawn by more than $50 and you bring your account balance to overdrawn by $50 or less at the end of the next business day (you have until 11 p.m. ET (8 p.m. PT) to make a deposit or transfer). Chase Overdraft Assist does not require enrollment and comes with eligible Chase checking accounts.
- We won't charge an Overdraft Fee for transactions that are $5 or less.
- We won't charge an Overdraft Fee if your debit card transaction was authorized when there was a sufficient available balance in your account.
- For Chase SapphireSM Checking and Chase Private Client CheckingSM accounts, there are no Overdraft Fees when item(s) are presented against an account with insufficient funds on the first four business days during the current and prior 12 statement periods. On a business day when we returned item(s), this counts toward the four business days when an Overdraft Fee will not be charged.

- What if I want Chase to authorize and pay overdrafts on my everyday debit card transactions?

If you or a joint account owner want Chase to authorize overdrafts on your everyday debit card transactions, please make your Chase Debit Card Coverage selection. You can change your Chase Debit Card Coverage selection at any time by signing in to chase.com or Chase Mobile[®] to update your account settings, calling us at 1-800-935-9935 (or at 1-713-262-1679 if outside the U.S.), or visiting a Chase branch. We accept operator relay calls.
